They request the two papers understood to be whig in this city, to publish their proceedings.

Alderman Weatherford, from same, reported against a Common Council resolution, directing Will these papers do as they are requested, or not? It is suspected that the whigs have no organ here, and that the whigs have no chance to be heard hereabouts. Will the adding a here here to be heard hereabouts. Will the adding a here hereabouts. to be heard hereabouts. Will the old line whige of Kentucky submit to be betrayed and sold out to factions and sections? They were once a proud party, with heroic leaders, and a banner always triumphant. Will they suffer it to be hauled down, and a coat of many colors substituted in its stead ? Let us see. Are there no whige here who will meet the whige of Nelson on the 22d, and take counsel with them? It there be any let them show their faith.

The two papers that have heretofore pretended to be whig may refuse to give notice of a meeting. In that case, let them give us notice, and we shall see that justice be done ourselves. The Louision manufact of the control is control to the control in the close in its possibility. The control is getting cld, and obsolete, perhaps.

He ditor is getting cld, and obsolete, perhaps.

He has lately been dealing in the prophecles and polemic theology, and seems to have forgotton that there is a whigh party. When he touches politics he becomes foggy and stupid. All leg listing power is vessied in Congress, he says, and therefore—what do you think?—why, therefore the President must not object to a bill, excent on the control of the In that case, let them give uanotice, and we shall see that justice be done ourselves. He workers and the state of the control of the cld of In that case, let them give us notice, and we shall the President must not object to a bill, except on constitutional grounds. Such stuff shows that that the editor is in a transition state, with his political sense giving way to some other faculty. He cannot be depended on in the present evergency of hisold party. So, if any of them wish to commen cate with the public, let them come to the Democrat. It is our business to do justice to everybody, and these old whigs who still maintain their integrity ought to have a chance Who, then, will represent the whige of this city, at Frankfort, on the 22d proximo? It is time the whole business was understood. The whig papers will keep slleut, and not even let their readers know that the party lealive. What 's to be done about it?

BANES IN INDIANA .- These institutions have rather a sorry show in our neighboring State just now. The committee of the Senate was instructad to bring in a bill repealing the free banking 1 we passed 28 to 21. Then it was proposed 1 bring in a bill chartering a State Bank, requiring State stock accurity for the redemption of her paper. This was lost, 28 to 26. So the Senate are for no banks at all, at present, at least. Adversi ty will, perhaps, teach after a while what reason ought to have taught long ago; that promises to pay will nev r make a sound currency. It is idle to tell us what banks of issue may be. We know what they have been, and olways will be Aside from losses by banks dishonestly or impro perly managed, the till holders of banks manage otherwise are suffering constant losses by an picions, engendered by the present state things. The community does not suffer a tythe as much from actual felonies as it does from the legalized swindling of benking Institutions. A readintion was adopted: man can't now tell, without a delector in his We don't know that a better time will ever occur in Indiana, to dispense altogether with banks of issue, than the present. for the acquisition of wealth as Louisville, should base no newspaper organ devoted exclusively to be commercial, manufacinring, and other industrial liber.

The increase of the washib, population, end prospection of Louisville can best be promoted by the diffusion of a proper knowledge of her resources and extended the commerce, her amperior location and temperate climate, be refined society and extreordinary and extended the commerce, her amperior location and temperate climate, be refined society and extreordinary and extended the commerce, her amperior location and temperate climate, be refined society and extreordinary agovernment, her numerous schools and churches, the resource of the location of the content of a gricultural produce, and provided the content location at the Palls of the Obio, and unlimited water power at her very doors; her close proximity to the coal treasures of Kenticky, equal in value to the diamond mines of Brazil; and her ready access to menatians of lion, worth all the gold in California. These, and many kindred snhjects, have heretofore been an known, even to our own clitzens, simply because the proper menns have not been employed to collect and disseminate such valuable information. For the want of this knowledge in regard to Louisville, her advantages are not, and never have been, appreciated; and hence it is no wonder that many of the people of the Atlantic and Southern Atlantic States either do not know of the existence of Louisville, or if they have ever heard of it, they have formed an idea that our beautiful and attractive eity, teeming with life, and industry, and social enjoyment, is but an obsence country village. Other cities of the West have struggled with uniting energy to make known their calms and aitractions, and hence have acquired a wide-apread reputation, and have thus diverted to themselves a large amount of population and capital which would into number and the property and safficiently made known to the world, the growth of our city in wealth, population, and TS history, character and results, its sanctities and profamities, its science and its facts, demonstrating its indiance as civilized institution, on the Happiness of the individual, and the Progress of the Ruce, by Dr. T.
